

Result from the Mann-Kendall analyses shows a significant downward trend in maximum daily discharge through the time period with a p-value of 0.053 and an estimated 0.79% decrease in discharge over time.

Result from the Mann-Kendall analyses shows no trend in mead daily discharge through the time period with a p-value of 0.116, so no.